Healing the Leper

Go

When he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

—Matthew 9:1-4

And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean.

And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

—Mark 1:40-44

Leprosy, one of the most dreaded of all diseases to which mankind has made himself subject, is a result of the "unpardonable sin," or misuse of the divine creative force, which was so prevalent during Lemurian and Atlantean times. "As the Holy Spirit is the creative energy in Nature, the sex energy is its reflection in man, and misuse or abuse of that power is the sin that is not forgiven, but must be expiated in impaired efficiency of the vehicles, in order thoroughly to teach us the sanctity of the creative force." (Cosmo-Conception)

Paracelsus, the great physician-healer of the 15th century, stated: "An intimate tie binds the generator to that which is generated. Past generations are utilized in the construction of the future body; they are woven into the body as a tendency to some ailment, affecting either disposition or the life forces. This poison of past lives must somewhere be changed into healthfulness." Thus the Law of Cause and Effect works to teach man how to live according to the laws of God.

However, Christ brought grace, through which a person by repentance, restitution, and reform may absolve his destiny. Even the leper may use this divine formula to receive the healing Christ Power and be relieved of his burden. A definite change in consciousness of course is required in this process, and unless such a change takes place, the healing will be at best only temporary.

It was the sin of our progenitors in ancient Lemuria that they scattered their seed regardless of law and without love. But it is the privilege of the Christian to redeem himself by purity of life in remembrance of the Lord. John says, "His seed remaineth in him."

In modern times leprosy has given way to cancer, which also results from ungoverned desires. Science has provided a degree of assistance in "curing" both these terrible diseases, but a permanent remedy can be found only through educating people to understand the sacredness of the Holy Spirit within man and to learn to live the life of self-control which respects and obeys the laws of God.
